HAPPINESS

Human life is a quest for happiness — that final destination which gives the pursuer full possession of God, the Supreme Being. As we look back upon the long history of man upon the face of the earth, we realize that nothing material has assured him of success and happiness in the job of living. What, then are the signposts of successful living?

During the past four years we have learned to give direction to our life, to our activities, and to our contacts with others. We have started on our real search toward our goal by building a strong character, by developing sound moral, intellectual, physical, social, and personal virtues which direct us to the full realization of our potentialities. Above all we have learned to know and love God Himself to whom all of us must conform for success in our pursuit. We need God, we need His grace with its full equipment of virtues and gifts for our participation of His life which will mark the close of our quest for happiness.

So, as you open the 1960 Eagle, we Seniors invite you to follow us through another year that has guided us in OUR QUEST FOR HAPPINESS.

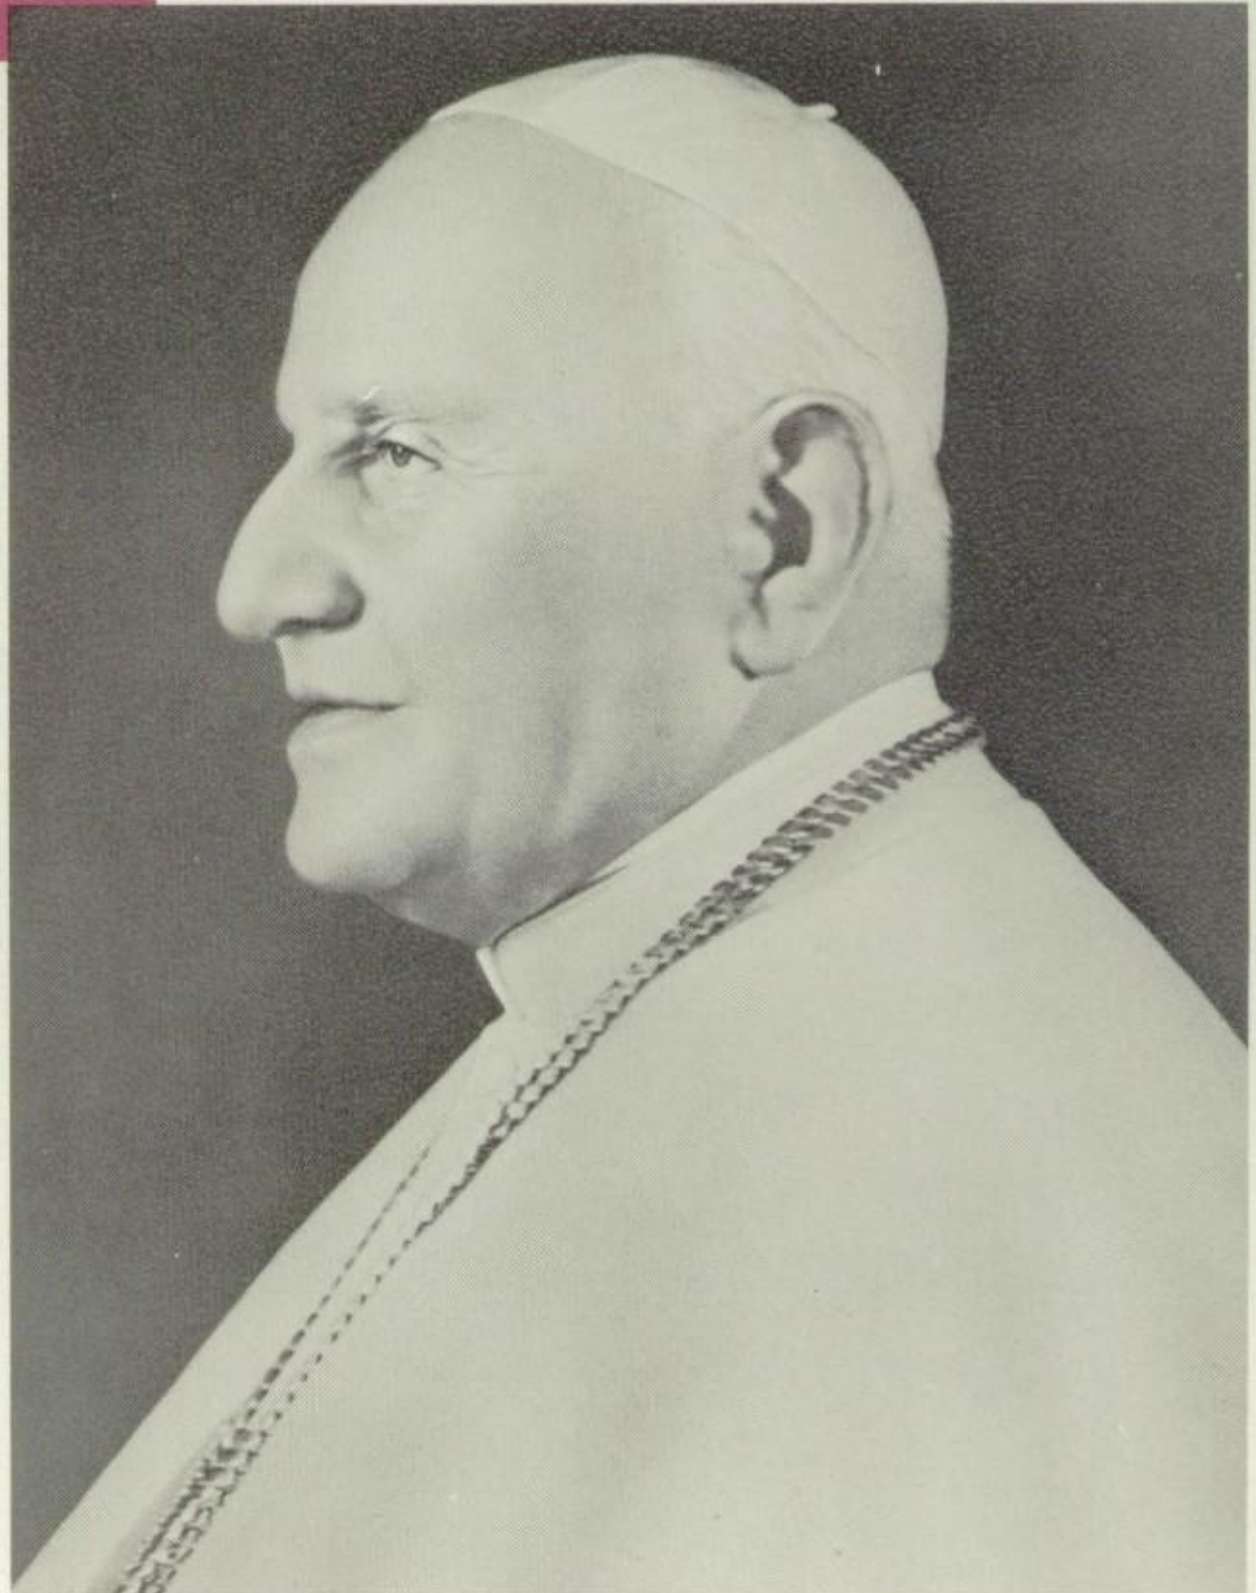

DEDICATION

SHEPHERD

We, the seniors of St. Louis and St. Joseph High School, dedicate our yearbook to His Holiness, Pope John XXIII.

Old in years, but young in spirit and in heart, our Holy Father leads his flock as did the Good Shepherd. His simplicity, understanding, and kindness open to many the door to the true Faith. May his reign be a long, happy, and successful one.

At the head of our local leaders and inspiring them with helpful directives is our beloved Bishop. Compliance to his sound advice gives us assurance in our quest for happiness.

HIS EXCELLENCY
THE MOST REVEREND BISHOP DANIEL J. FENNEY
BISHOP OF PORTLAND, MAINE

OUR QUEST FOR HAPPINESS

THROUGH

DILIGENT LEADERSHIP

"To give of self and not to count the cost" is the noble vocation of each administrator and of each member of the faculty of Saint Louis and of Saint Joseph High School — to lead and to direct us in our QUEST FOR HAPPINESS.

Throughout four years at our Alma Mater, our teachers, keen spiritual advisors and wise counsellors, have taught us where we are going and why we are going in that particular way. They have instructed us in the all-important lessons basic to happiness and essential for harmonious adjustment to life and for spiritual advancement. They have instilled within our minds and our hearts sound principles and life-long convictions to guide our actions along our journey toward happiness.

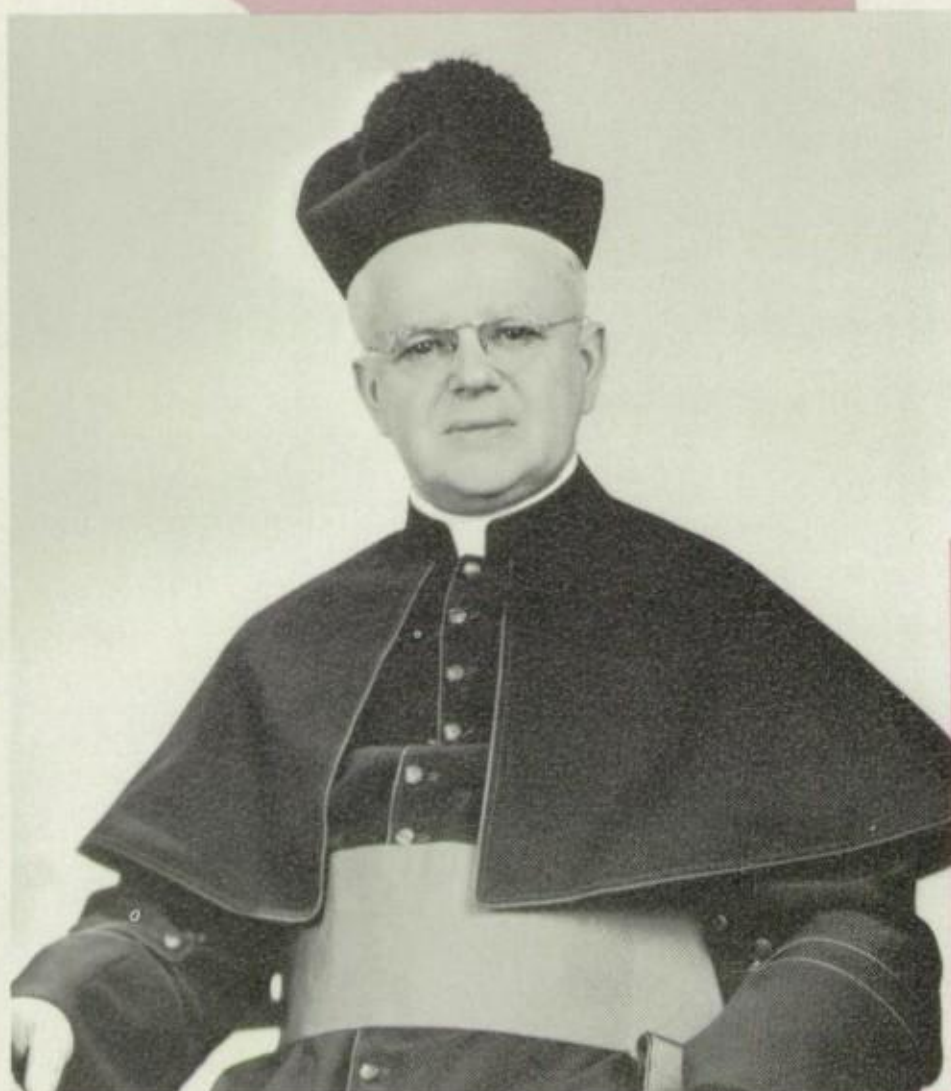

To our administrators and our teachers we wish to express our heartfelt appreciation for their tremendous contribution to the Church of America in the training of youth.

OUR QUEST FOR HAPPINESS

THROUGH

PERSONAL ACHIEVEMENT

Although the administration and the faculty contribute much to the success of a high school education, our own endeavors remain the most essential factor of achievement.

Personal effort is the indispensable ingredient for all our successful activities. Classes, clubs, and athletics at St. Louis and St. Joseph High School require such an effort. The long hours spent poring over textbooks, either learning lessons or doing assignments, prepared us not only for the dreaded quizzes and exams, but also for the trials and the problems of life.

The acquisition of physical and intellectual discipline is both important and difficult, but the development of moral discipline and virtue is still more essential and demanding, we know.

Our populous honor roll bears glorious testimony to our success in the realm of knowledge. May our desire for personal achievement lead us to a still greater victory in OUR QUEST FOR HAPPINESS.

OUR QUEST FOR HAPPINESS

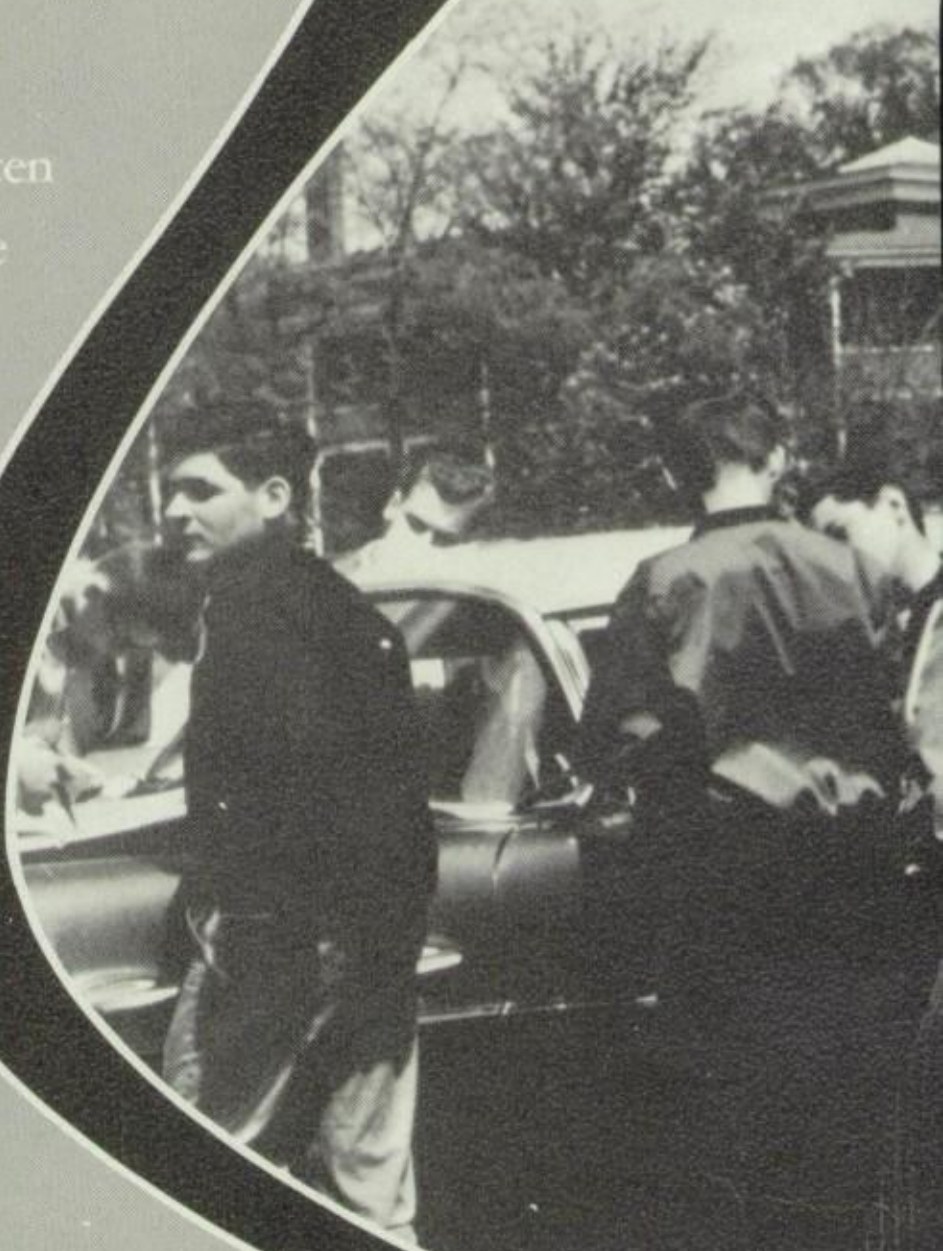

THROUGH

SINCERE FRIENDSHIP

Friendship springs up often in the good clean atmosphere that surrounds our school. New friends are made everywhere: from the frequent strolls to the corner to the infrequent formal gatherings.

Wherever friends are found, happiness is always around.

Over the weekend, friends congregate at socials, sport events, and many other places where fun can be had. On school nights another kind of gathering takes place, usually at a house where it is quiet. Then it is not for fun. It is to learn lessons and do homework. From these gatherings, the art of getting along with others stems. This is a priceless virtue that breeds lasting harmony and contentment.

The underclassmen, featured in the next pages, have shown their willingness to cooperate and further the tradition of friendliness. Their friendship is one of our most cherished possessions.

JUNIOR A

Paul Roy and Richard Fontaine diligently work on a difficult algebra problem. Michael Morel and Conrad Berthiaume check their solutions.

With two years of experience behind them, the Juniors start their big year. This is the year of decisions. The biggest one concerns the future. Yes, the preparation of the future has become momentous. Choosing the right subjects for the proper vocation requires careful deliberation. It is the Junior's task to aim for a definite goal in life and to start the preparation needed for that particular career or vocation. Once this is settled, he marches on toward definite conquests.

Victory is achieved in the realms of Chemistry, Homemaking, and American History. The battle of Chemistry is fought only by the bravest intellectual squad and it presents quite a fight. Atoms and equations offer strong resistance--so much so that some of our men are seriously, if not fatally wounded. In Homemaking, victory is assured; for sewing and cooking skills are easily conquered. The challenge of American History, though, demands more effort. The going is rough, but the events and important facts are finally mastered and another battle is won.

Yes, the Junior year has its adventures and woes, but along with these, comes great joy. It is a long awaited day when Juniors finally receive their class rings to show them off, for they symbolize fidelity to the school. The greatest joy, however, is probably being upperclassmen. Like the Seniors, Juniors lead in the social life of the school. Like the Seniors they are looked upon for good examples.

SOPHOMORE A

SAGE SOPHOMORES

Only faint memories of their Freshman year haunt the wise and toughened Sophomores as they enter the echoing halls of school. With many experiences laid as foundation and with renewed youthful vigor, they begin the second lap of their journey.

The road ahead appears long and arduous, covered with a gravel-like substance called work. It seems, at first, that blind courage, strong ambition and laborious work, are the only tools Sophomores can use on this difficult road. So, they take up the challenge and forge ahead.

Along the journey, they notice that studies and the school activities are well blended but, one has to be aware not to let too many activities engulf his studies. Budding scientists also emerge to explore the mysterious world of Biology. While frogs and worms become, for some, a good topic of discussion, most prefer to talk about the Saturday dance. Geometry offers an intellectual challenge for those of higher talents, and it introduces sound reasoning.

Report card after report card grades slowly rise, that is, for those who really work. With the help of capable religious instructors, Sophs acquire greater experience. Finally, the last report card assures victory. This conquest spells triumph.

Yes, from the hard work and toil personal satisfaction arises. Deeper intellectual and spiritual growth take firmer roots. At last the Sophomores learn the meaning of the word wise.

Eager sophomores always look anxiously toward lab periods. Here, Brother Vincent supervises the biology class as the boys dissect a starfish.

Roger Painchaud's thespian abilities pay off in the class room. Although still a novice, he really knows how to pass on his knowledge in the French class.

Green Freshmen

Hesitantly, the "green" Frosh cautiously enter the hallowed high school halls. Their first impressions undoubtedly are those of excitement intermingled with fear, but this is probably the product of a novel experience. However, bewildered, puzzled, and as they are commonly known, green, they smilingly accept the new challenge--the challenge of plunging into a world of fundamental skills. Realizing, of course, that their "greenness" will soon wear out, they enthusiastically begin their journey.

Like beginners, it is only natural that they be informed of the difficulties and trials they will face. But, they are also told how to use their energy wisely. Finally, after being assured of the joy and the rewards that will one day be theirs, they dazzlingly and perseveringly continue their way. Adventure after adventure they encounter with vigor and zest, for every adventure and experience brings with it a lesson or a new discovery. The Freshman initiation, for example, is an event the Frosh look forward to. But, despite the anxiety their little hearts feel there is joy and fun for all. Thus, the green Freshies learn the meaning of school spirit and become the pride and honor of their school.

Yes, Freshman adventures and experiences are many, but realizing that they are now molding their future, the Freshmen face each tomorrow with even greater hope and confidence; for, if today is well lived, that is, spent in the development of scholarly minds and spiritual virtue, the future will be a glorious advancement towards happiness.

OUR QUEST FOR HAPPINESS

THROUGH

V A R I E D A C T I V I T I E S

All our activities — intellectual, religious, social, athletic — contribute their share to help us achieve success in our Quest for Happiness.

To develop a taste for refinement in music, we have the St. Joseph Glee Club and the St. Louis Band. The FLYER our school paper, helps to encourage the students develop their journalistic talent.

While the Sodality draws students closer to Mary and to her Divine Son, the Mission Club encourages foreign missionaries in their apostolic work and the Vocation Club enlightens all in their own personal work in the search for happiness.

The Current Events Club teaches its members to shoulder responsibilities and to respect the rights and privileges of their fellow men, and the Science Club opens the way to those interested in research.

Athletics fulfill the need for exercise while they train the will to the discipline of competition. In this way they also help us in OUR QUEST FOR HAPPINESS.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

The purpose of the National Honor Society is to stimulate the high scholarship, constructive leadership, purposeful service, and worthy character of the students in the secondary schools of our country.

It centers the enthusiasm of the youth, as they take their places in the life of our nation.

The students of St. Joseph and St. Louis High Schools are proud that they have active members in this great society working for the betterment of the world.

HONOR SOCIETY: P. Cote, R. Ross, P. Janson, J. Martel, M. Baillargeon, D. Lambert, L. Dubois.

ALTAR BOYS SOCIETY

The altar society is a group of boys who, under the direction of Brother Anthony, assist our parish priests in saying their daily Mass.

The group is more numerous this year than it ever was before. They certainly bring honor to our school, and add poise to our church ceremonies.

SODALITY

To join the Sodality of Our Lady is to develop spiritually into a more mature Catholic.

As a Sodalist one becomes a closer friend of Jesus and Mary by studying, by meditating, and finally by imitating their virtuous life. For, to know is to love.

This organization, like all others, has special rules to which generous souls conform to lead Jesus and Mary's way of Life which is the one and only true way in our search for happiness.

Discussing the characteristics of a "Bis Saeculari" Sodality are C. Newman, A. Melancon, M. Baillargeon, P. Cote, and L. Janson.

Even Probation Sodalists plan meetings--J. St. Pierre, S. Shevenell, T. Bourassa, L. Simard, L. Addorio.

Deschambeault, M. McAuliffe, A. Cote, D. Huot.

VOCATION CLUB

The best preparation for the future is the present; so every month certain days are set aside for discussions on Religious Life. These discussions give helpful information either to those girls called to this state of life, or to those who, as mothers, will need to encourage vocations in their own family.

The Vocation Club is an incentive to inspire in our minds and hearts serious thoughts of the future.

G. Voisine, M. Martin, L. Goudreau, J. Boudreau, and S. Murphy look over their parts in the vocation play: "And Then They Were Two," composed by our principal, Sister St. Eva.

R. Petrin, S. Perreault, L. Anastasoff, S. Poirier, M. Rochefort, L. Palmer, and M. D'Aoust, busily count the money received from the collections made every week in their Mission Club.

P. Legare and C. Mercier give a helping hand to a salvaged soul as C. Rondeau, P. Cote, M. Metayer, and A. Poirier think of other means to raise more unfortunate souls to Heaven.

MISSION CLUB

"There is more joy in giving than in receiving." This is the reason why everyone is so eager and willing to take an active part in the Mission Club to help spread the Faith throughout the world.

Our school's record of pagan adoptions has always been one of the highest and we have a right to be very proud of it. This pride stimulates us to continue our work in the mission fields by our prayers, sacrifices and donations.

BAND

Band members spend many successive Tuesday and Thursday nights practicing the selected music for various concerts and music festivals. Mr. Drapeau's ability and patience have succeeded in forming a versatile outfit.

Mr. Villandry's firm drilling exercises have helped the band to become an outstanding parade unit in this vicinity.

YEARBOOK STAFF

The Yearbook Staff of '60 is made up of seven members working hand in hand with the advisers, Sister St. Claire of Jesus and Brother Roland. Their job is to present to the senior class and to the whole school the best Yearbook possible. This EAGLE records the events which highlighted our last year in high school.

FLYER STAFF

Our weekly newspaper, "The Flyer," furnishes both St. Joseph and St. Louis High Schools with the recent events and extra news of the previous week.

It is edited and published by the students with the aid of Brother Roland, Brother Roger, and Sister St. Julianne of Rome. The Flyer serves as a part of our extracurricular activities. It also offers valuable experience for all who work on its staff.

GLEE CLUB

The Glee Club under the able direction of Sister Saint Cecile of Jesus plays an important role in our school activities. On special occasions during the school year, such as the Christmas Assembly, the Pastor's Feast Day and Graduation, the Glee Club provides an excellent form of entertainment. The Glee Club also offers valuable experience to a few girls who serve as accompanists.

Practice is the secret of our Glee Club's perfect blend of voices.

CAFETERIA

Physical energy helps one to carry out his daily duties and activities; so it is at the cafeteria that all students renew their energy after a morning of hard work. Good physical health means good mental health.

All look forward to this time to enjoy delicious foods and to discuss the morning's work as well as social events.

Brother Armand surveys lunchers to see that appetites are appeased.

LIBRARIANS

Knowledge is a true power when it leads to truth and to love. It is through the innumerable books in our library that we acquire the knowledge of truth and goodness, and that we learn to love them. Hearts filled with this love find the way that leads to happiness.

Our librarians are ever at the service of all students who wish to make a wise use of the library.

LIBRARIANS. A. Cote, J. Nadeau, and R. Lambert learn library techniques from Brother Armand.

J. Nadeau explores the mysteries of the card catalogue.

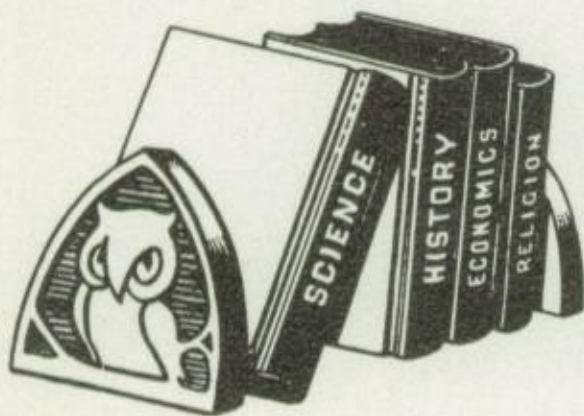

J. LeClerc, and P. Poirier, assisted by Mother St. Eugenie, make use of the card catalogue for quick and accurate information.

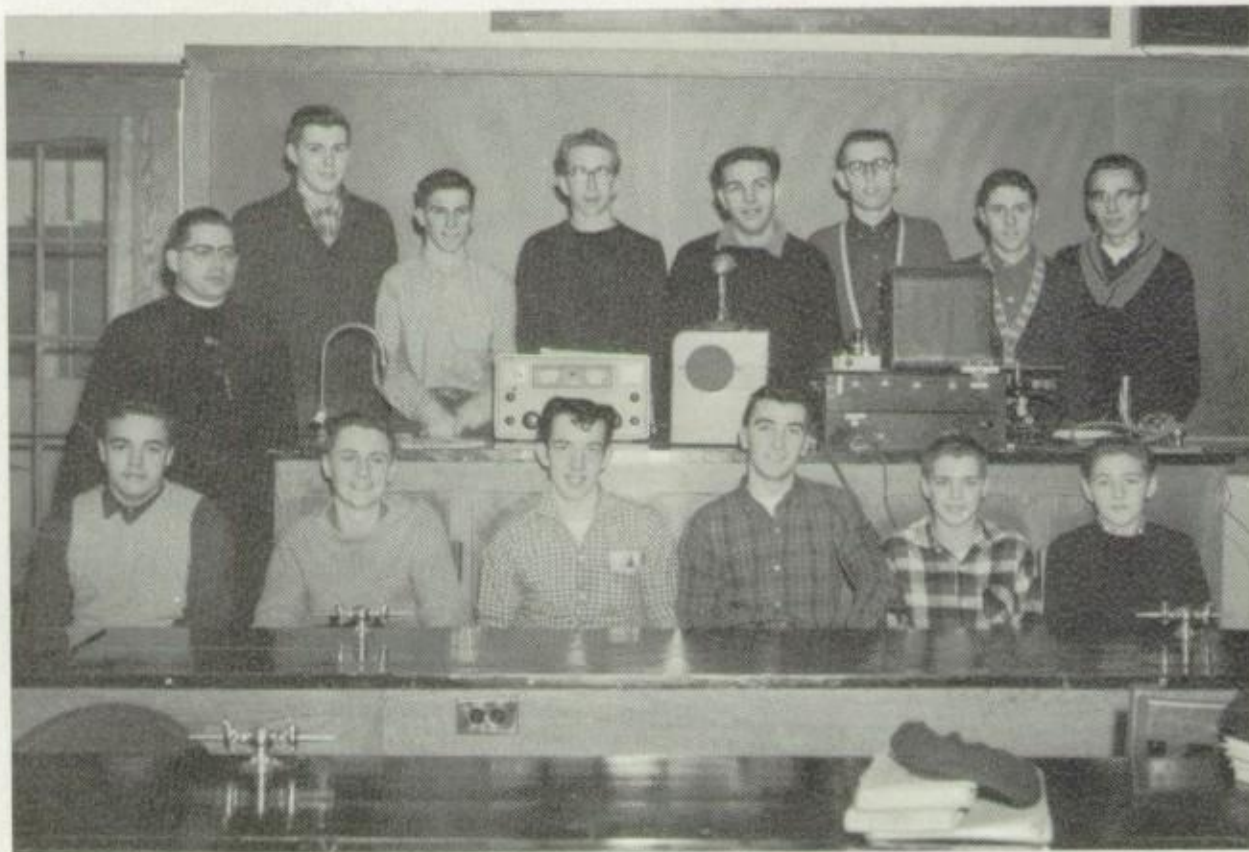

Checking the cards and preparing the reports on overdue books are these busy librarians: C. Gendron, R. Brochu, P. Poirier, C. Lauzier, P. Rochefort, P. Lauzon, and J. LeClerc.

SCIENCE CLUB

Among the clubs that were re-organized this year was the Newland Science Club. The main purpose of the club is to introduce the members to various hobbies. Projects in mineralogy, photography, chemistry-experimenting, and radio-transmitting were given during the year. Another aim of the club is to acquaint the members with some of our local industrial concerns. Excursion trips were organized to this effect.

R. Beliveau and N. Langelier check their equipment prior to a demonstration in radio transmission.

BOOK CLUB

Reading is a form of enjoyment but reading a good book is in itself a form of education. The Book Club has been organized to give its members the wonderful opportunity to develop good reading habits and to acquire more knowledge through the proper use of leisure time.

Looking over and enjoying the new books that have just arrived are these Book Club members: C. Legare, S. Boutet, S. Roy, and G. Webb.

CHESS CLUB

The chess club is an activity under the diligent guidance of Brother Armand. It competes against many of the various teams in the neighboring high schools.

Their "savoir faire" makes them a formidable adversary against any team who wishes to challenge them.

CHESS CLUB MEMBERS. FRONT: M. Corriveau, R. Charbonneau, G. Gagne; BACK: Bro. Armand, E. Boucher, D. Lessard, V. Pinard, and R. Lapierre.

DANCE COMMITTEE

This is a new and popular organization formed by the students for the sole purpose of promoting socials at St. Joseph's Hall on Saturday nights. It meets weekly to plan the ensuing dances. Outstanding among many of its successes were the Freshman Reception Dance, Mad-Hatter, Halloween Hop, Harvest Hop, Snowflake Frolic, and Valentine's Dance.

CIVICS CLUB

The Civics Club helps its members to learn more about their rights, duties, and responsibilities as good citizens of tomorrow, so as to make this world a happier place to live in. It is an important contributing factor to a stronger and more powerful nation because it leads each and everyone to recognize and respect his fellowmen.

Always ready to boost the morale of our fine football and basketball squads are the energetic cheerleaders of St. Joseph High.

Many hours of hard practice and cooperation under the leadership of our able co-captains, lead to the development of perfectly organized drills and cheers which spell Victory for our St. Louis High athletes.

Co-Captains: C. Allaire, R. Brochu.

D. Lambert and P. Rochefort register children for CCD Sunday classes.

CONFRATERNITY OF CHRISTIAN DOCTRINE

The Confraternity of Christian Doctrine at St. Joseph's High provides an excellent opportunity for students seriously interested in spreading knowledge of their Faith to younger members of the Mystical Body of Christ.

The Confraternity furnishes worthwhile experience to those who are fortunate enough to teach and keeps all its members well informed on the laws and teachings of our Catholic Church.

PROM COMMITTEE

The committee is made up of fourteen members selected from the Senior Classes of St. Louis, St. Joseph and St. Andre High Schools. This committee meets for two months to make plans for the annual Senior Prom which is held in St. Joseph Parish Hall in the month of May. It has to find a theme and plan the decorations for the most memorable night of the year.

OUR QUEST FOR HAPPINESS

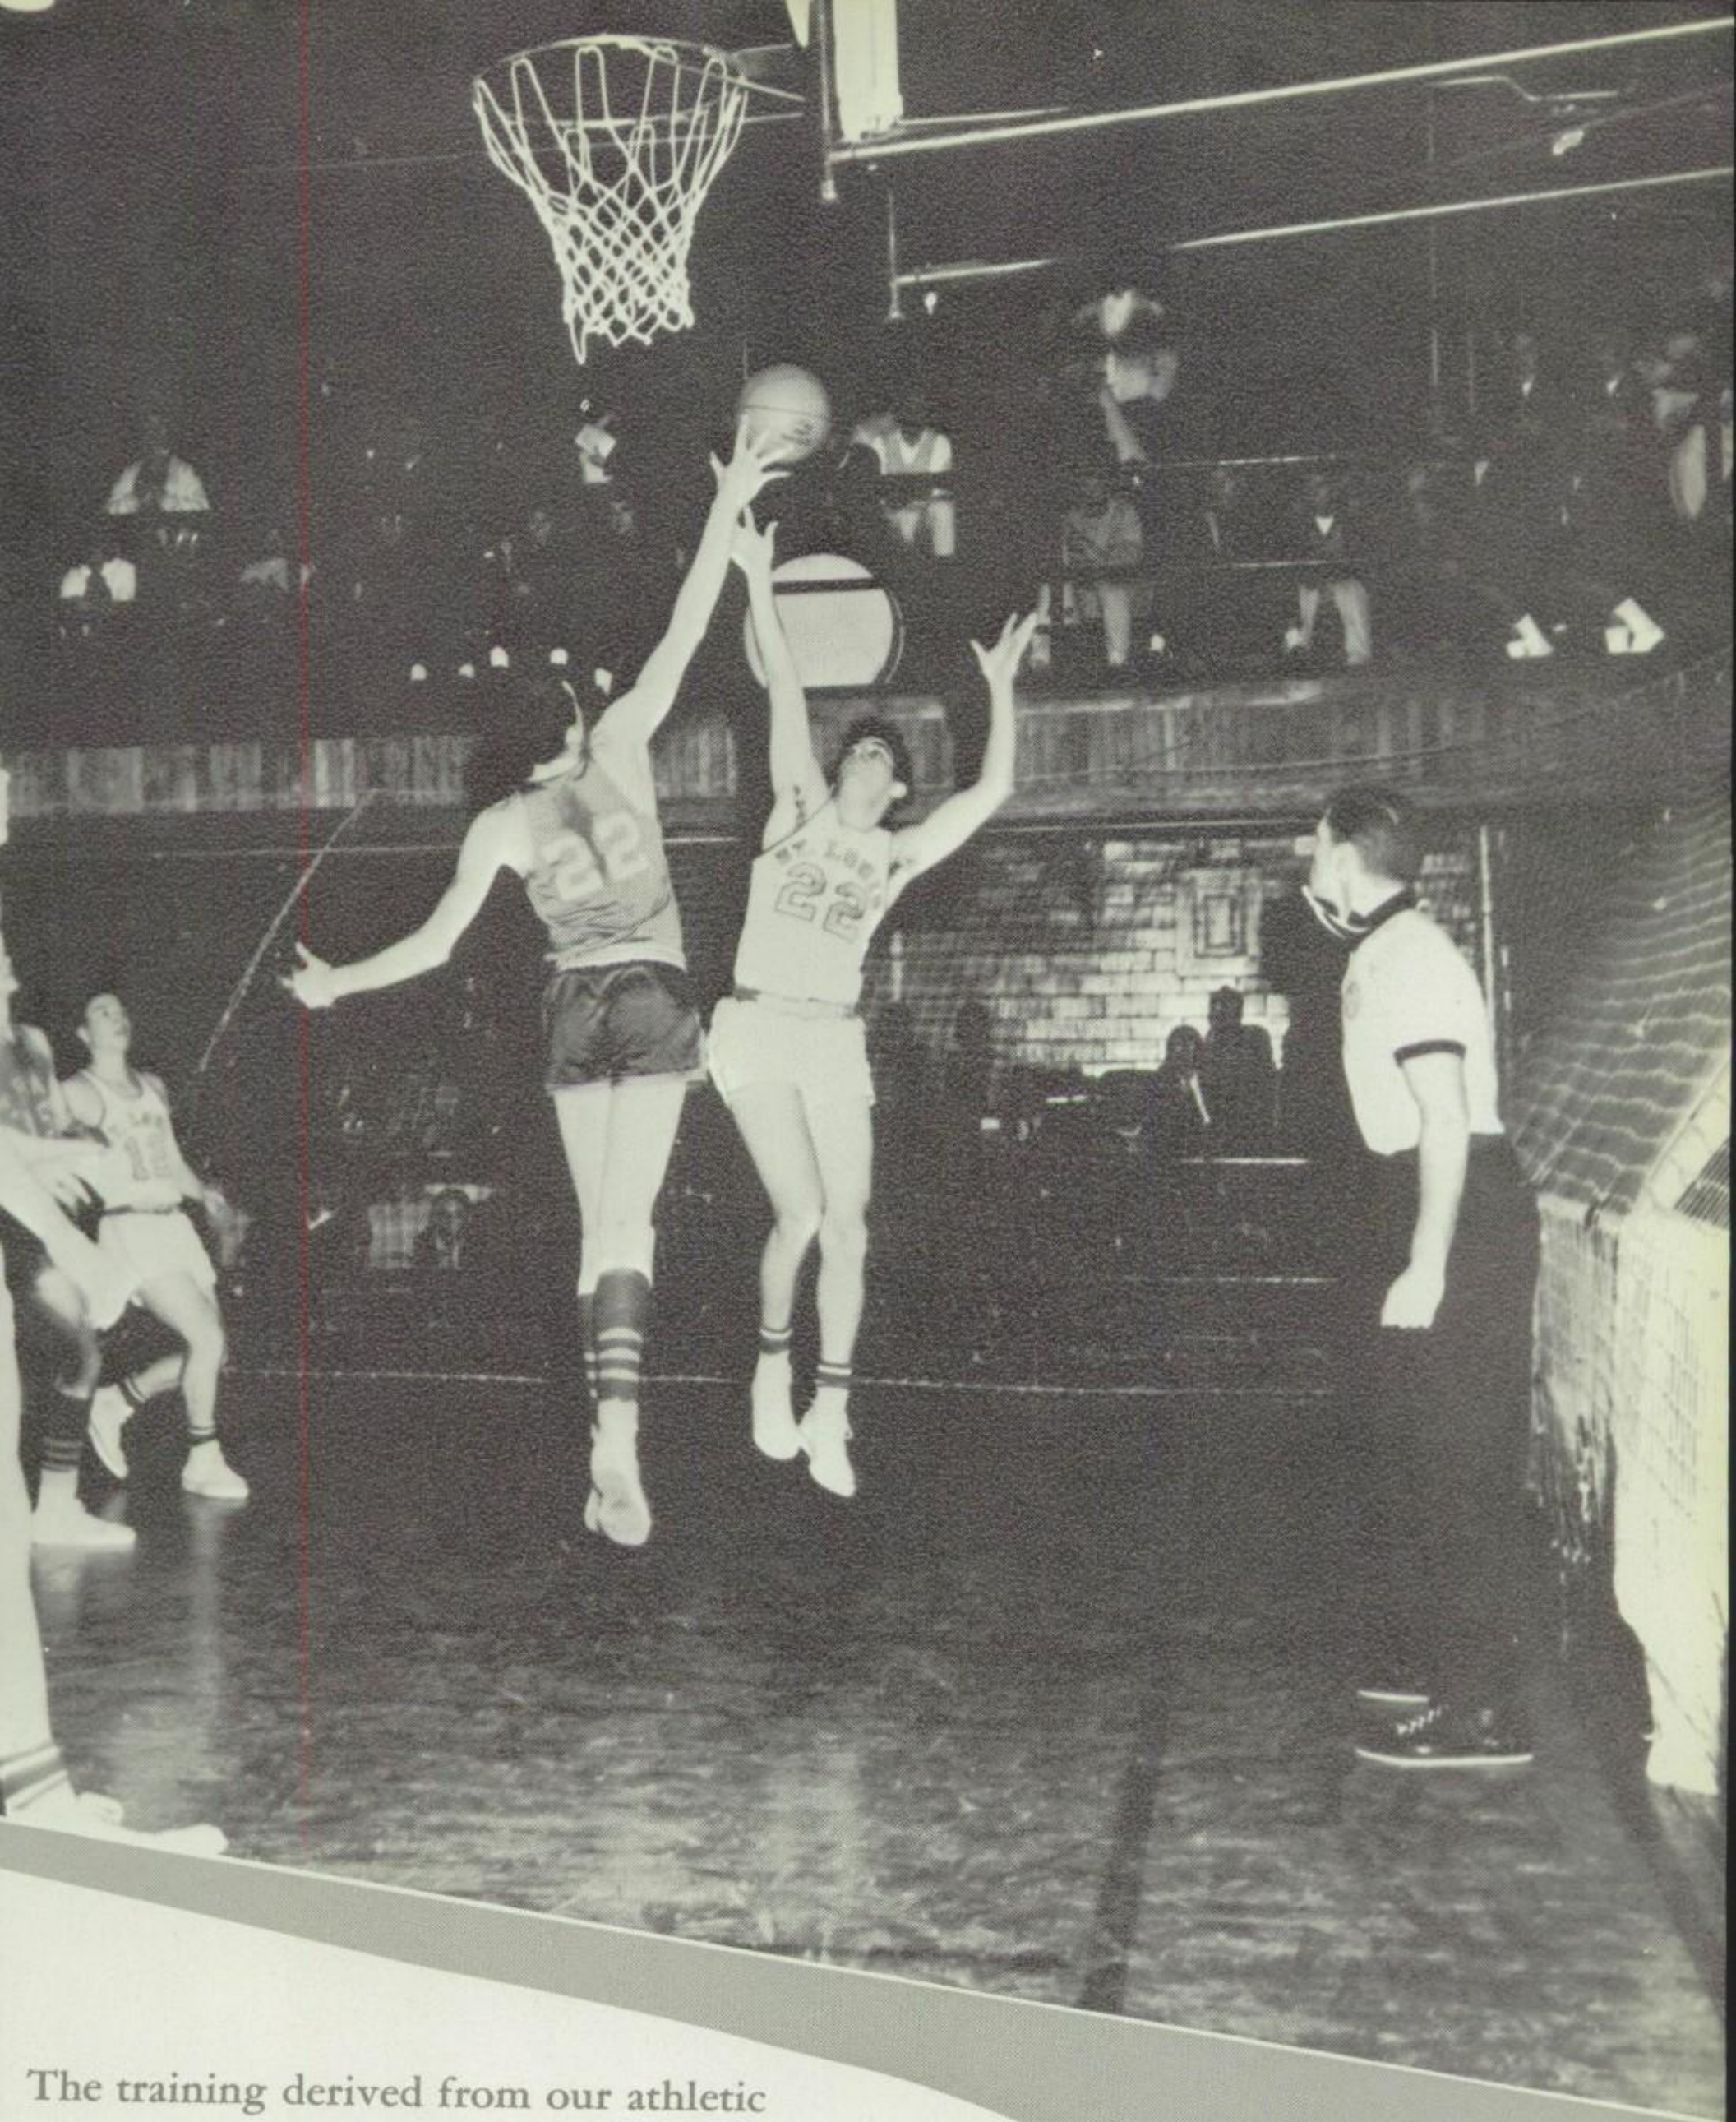

THROUGH

ATHLETIC CONTESTS

For the past few years, our athletes had established a formidable reputation for St. Louis in all sports. But, in a school of the size of ours, the note of triumph cannot be held unflinchingly; it must suffer temporary fadeouts. Occasionally a flash of the former Eagle "drive," stamina, and skill shone in a contest to provide some thrills.

The young talents displayed this year afford a guarantee of better records to come. But the efforts of our coaches and those of our athletes need not the confirmation of a record to become praiseworthy. Records never give the whole story anyway. Good or bad, they are always lacking in the evidence that only living memories can provide.

The training derived from our athletic program will benefit our players in many ways in their QUEST FOR HAPPINESS.

Captain Chretien and Jeff Sevigny, meet at midfield with opposing Captain, Kenny Layne of Thorton for the toss-up.

The offensive team awaits for St. Louis to gain possession of the ball.

FOOTBALL

This year the season started with a victory over Edward Little. This was the Eagles' seventeenth straight win. However, with the next game the record was broken. Then came Cheverus, a very formidable opponent. At half-time St. Louis was losing, but a second-half rally brought a surprising victory.

The closest contest was with South Portland. The score was 7-6. But the game which seemed to be most appreciated was the one against Thornton, "our friends across the river." For the second year in a row the Eagles were victorious. This game itself, was a consolation for the losses. Although the season wasn't an excellent one, much experience was gained.

"Cool" Coach Cote concentrates on key offensive plays which could mean a touchdown.

The Cheerleaders lead the team on the field.

Dr. Servais talks to "Frenchie" Deschambeault. This capable physician mended not only the boys' bodies but also their spirits.

Here is the placement that won the S. Portland game. Lacroix's "magic toe" helped us out of many a tough spot.

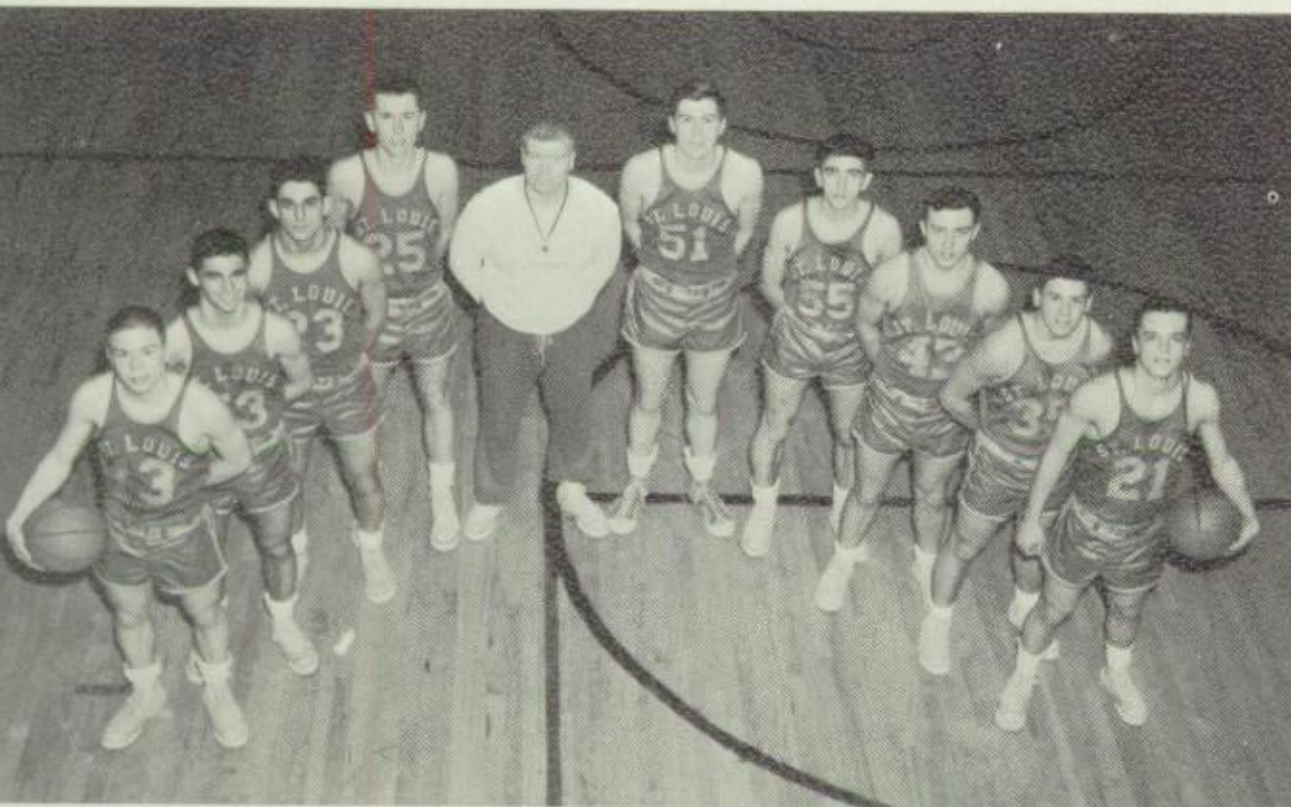

BASKETBALL

With but one senior returning this season, the Saints, under the fine coaching of Mr. McFarland, had a group of inexperienced boys and were thus forced to rebuild for the coming years. This fine group, studded with sophomores, spent many a day in practice, giving it all they had to gain a starting position on the team.

Even though they finished with a losing season, the experience acquired should prove beneficial next year.

A familiar sight: The team in a huddle before game against Stephens High.

Red Sevigny scores a layup against Thornton.

Jr. Petit fights hard for a rebound.

JUNIOR VARSITY

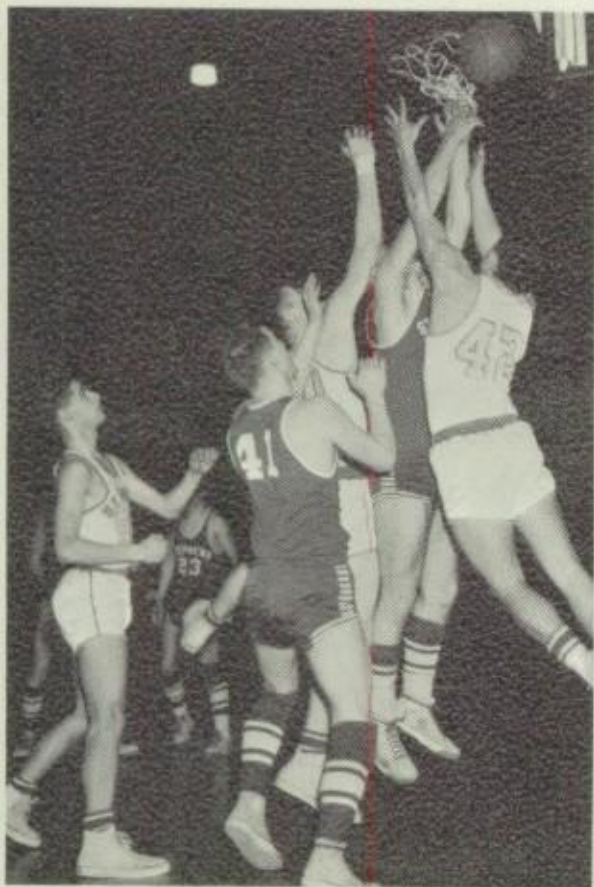

Our Jayvee hoopsters had a fairly good season under the able coaching of Mr. McFarland. The games were very exciting. It was proven so by their seven victories and eight losses. This was exemplified when the final tally showed that they had scored 453 points and their opponents had scored 454. Their fine display of ball handling, passing and shooting, points to a better season next winter.

FRESHMEN

This year's freshman team proved itself many a time. Its 12-3 record goes to show they are a group of individuals working as a close-knit unit. Although supposed to be "green," these boys showed very fine ball handling, the king that makes a championship team.

BASEBALL

Reconstruction is the password in St. Louis sports this year, and baseball is undergoing a complete rejuvenation. Upperclassmen are completely absent from this year's roster, so the Eagles' hopes rest on the shoulders of young and inexperienced players. With seriousness of purpose and hard practice the team may surprise many of their Telegram League opponents. Coach Faucher has high hopes for the future of his promising youngsters.

OUR QUEST FOR HAPPINESS

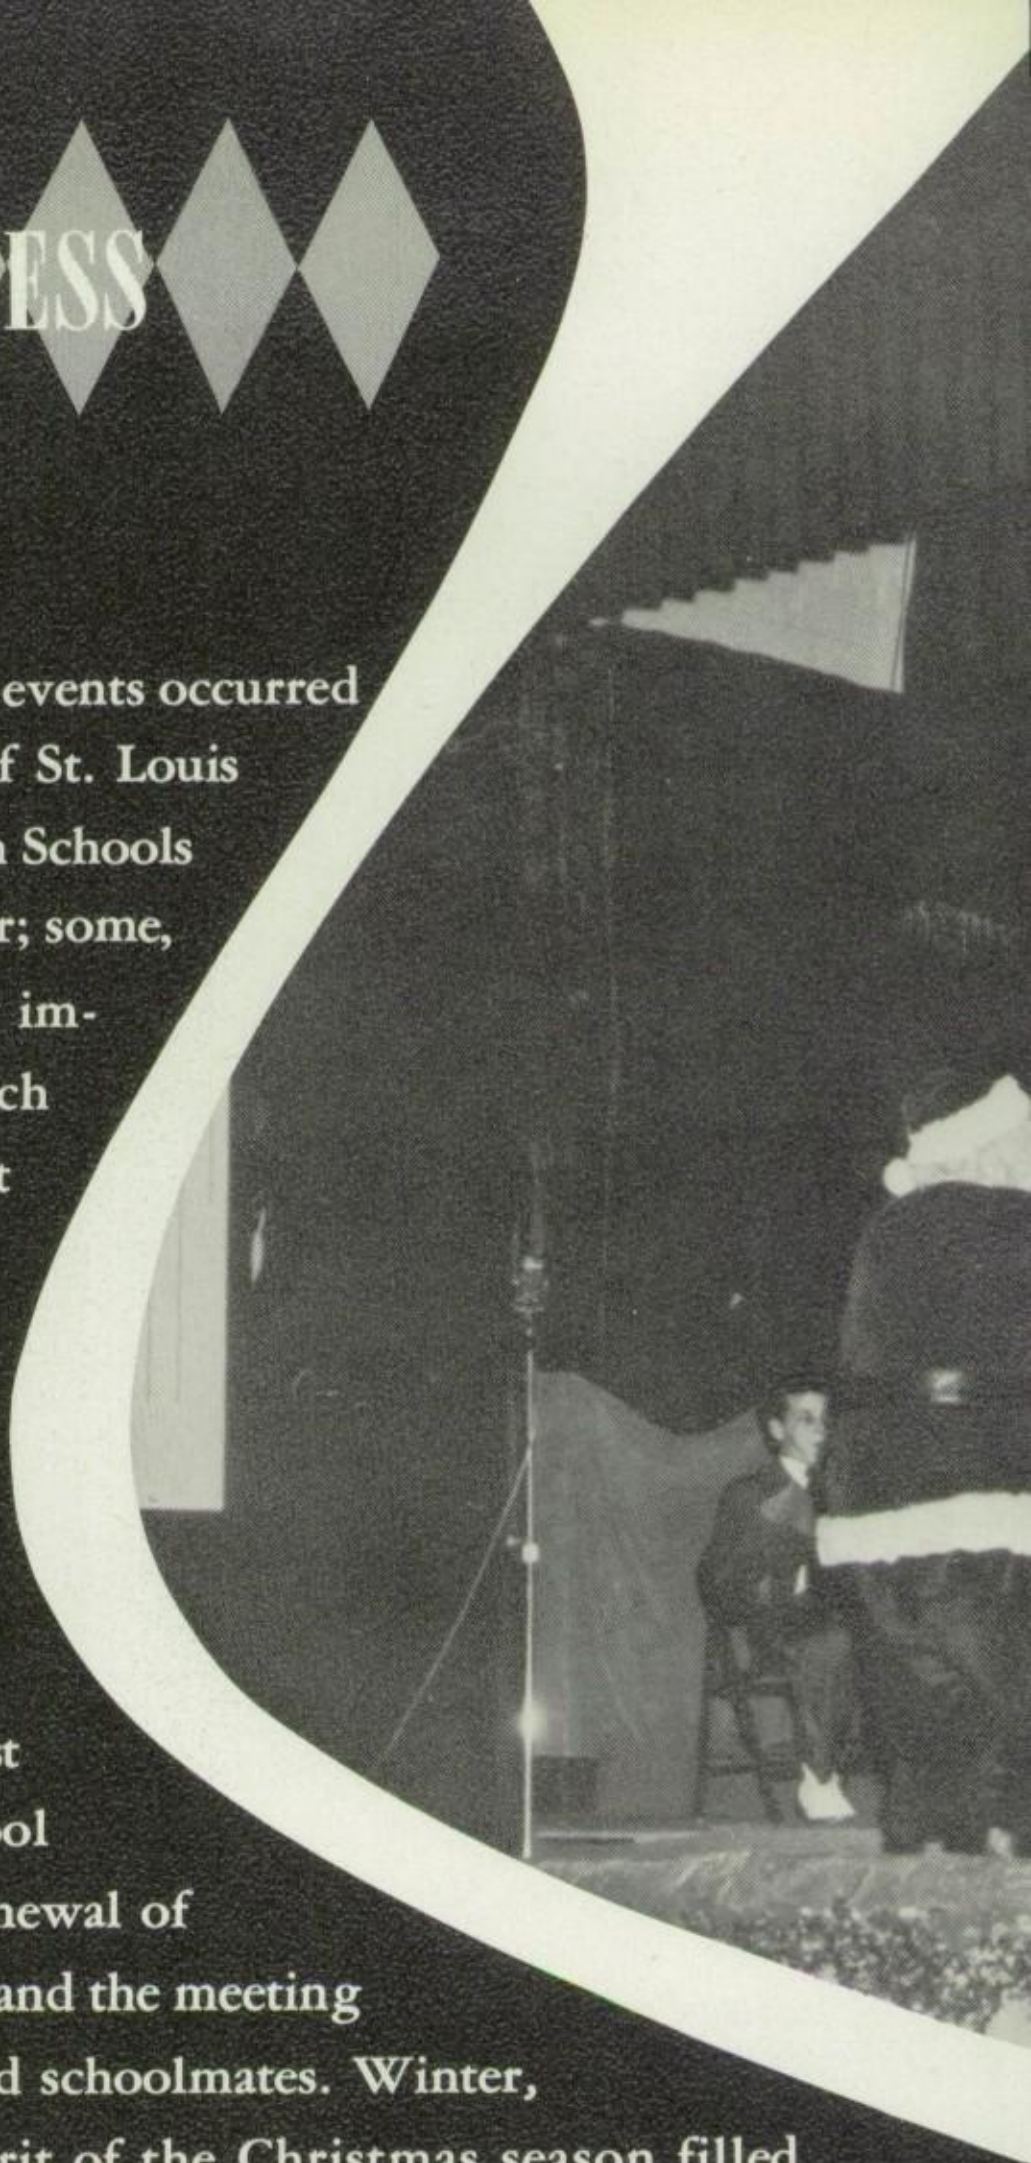

THROUGH

MEMORABLE EVENTS

Many memorable events occurred within the walls of St. Louis and St. Joseph High Schools during the past year; some, trivial, others, very important in our search for happiness. But every one of these occurrences brings to our minds vivid memories of great moments spent together.

Fall, with the first ringing of the school bell marked the renewal of past acquaintances and the meeting of new teachers and schoolmates. Winter, with its joyful spirit of the Christmas season filled every heart with generous dispositions, and so many needy families were made happy with food baskets delivered to their homes.

Spring brought many interesting changes in school life as well as in nature. It played an important part in setting the stage for graduation — the climax of four years of high school labor.

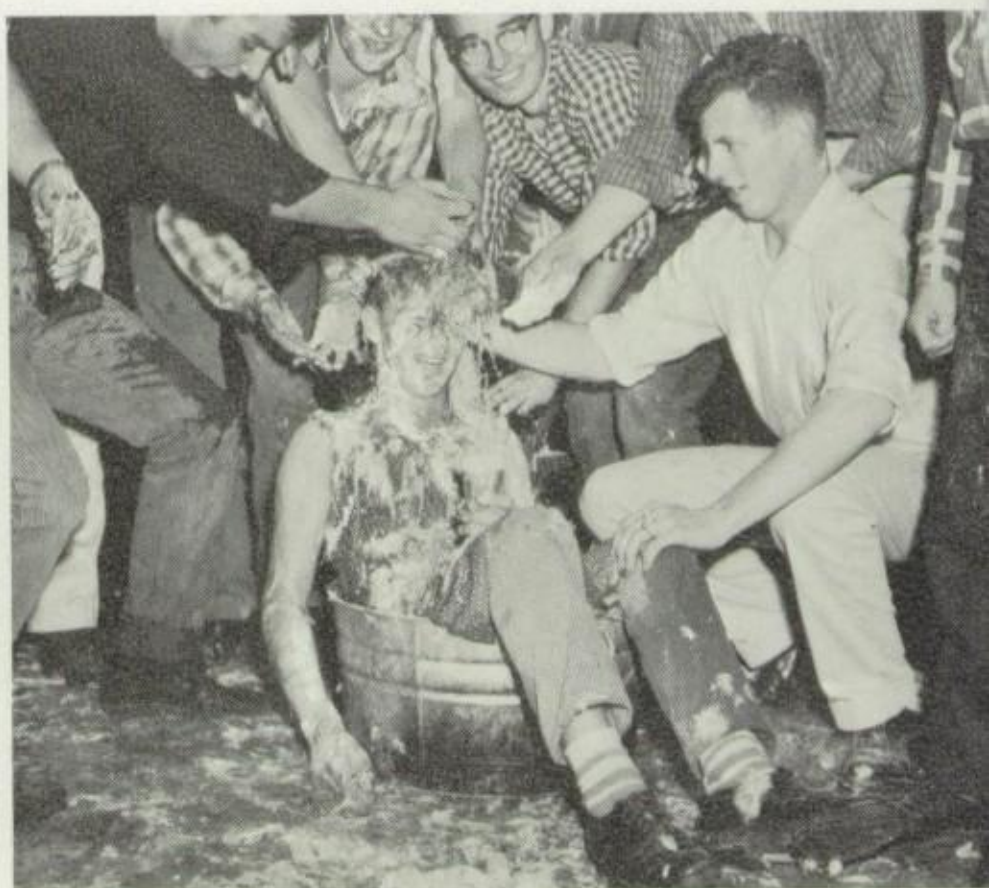

For some,
these events were a preparation to enter into one's vocation, for others, they were a stepping stone towards further education. But all lead us on to our final destination in OUR QUEST FOR HAPPINESS.

Sister St. Eva, principal, greets the eager Freshmen as they begin their first day of hard work towards a high-school diploma.

A crew of Seniors administer the "treatment" which makes Freshman Reception such a memorable thing. The victim here seems to be enjoying it too.

To distribute to the happy Juniors the ring representing their Alma Mater is a pleasant duty for the principal, Sister St. Eva.

After attending the B.C.L.A. Conference, these young Sodality representatives give a report on its sessions and activities.

Playing volleyball at the annual senior picnic provided adequate exercise and recreation for everyone.

As a consequence for their inability to please the seniors during the Freshman Initiation, these "western freshies" look for a needle in the haystack.

The seniors pay their annual visit to the Biddeford Savings Bank to learn the principal phases of banking.

Dance committee members busy themselves decorating the hall for the fall harvest dance. Pumpkins, squashes and corn stalks contribute an air of reality.

Father Marc Franck's eloquent words inspire the student body to a better Christian Life.

FALL

Brother Albert, Principal, and the Nolettes exchange comments over Phil's report card.

Very proud of their success in making jelly are these future homemakers.

Mr. Logan, American Yearbook Representative, plans the 1960 yearbook with staff and advisors.

Junior B students begin the feast of the Presentation of the Blessed Virgin by pinning on medals in her honor.

Special students listen carefully to Mr. A. Soyck explanations of "Concepts of Mathematics," --T. Nine O'Clock Scholar.

M. Paul, V. Audie, and J. Dion, prize winners of the annual Thanksgiving Drive, proudly point to the total success.

Mrs. Lavoie and daughter Elaine seem pleased over the results of the first report card handed to them by Sister St. Claire of Jesus, Senior Teacher.

The St. Louis Band paces Main Street during Veteran's Day parade.

The most quiet moments of the year occur during the Term Exams.

Brother Albert welcomes the student body on the first day of the school year.

At Christmas the St. Louis Sodality set a new record by distributing 26 food parcels to the needy families of Biddeford.

Lending a helping hand to make someone's Christmas a brighter one are these charitable sodalists.

On Dec. 18 certificates of special recognition for the National Educational Development Tests were given to Sophomores and Juniors, and certificates from the Maine Teachers Academic Recognition Program were awarded to the Seniors.

Looking up answers for the contest conducted by the Sodality are these ambitious Freshmen-- T. Bourassa, A. Cote, and L. Soulard.

Mrs. Christensen, representative of the Comptometer School of Boston, demonstrates an adding machine to future secretaries.

The students of Junior B answer the SOS requesting rosaries for the Catholics of South America.

Measuring time brings a smile to both teacher and student, for it suggests that graduation day will soon be here.

Santa enjoys Mr. Drapeau and the band during the annual Christmas Concert. Popular seasonal tunes with group singing made it a delightful evening.

WINTER

C A L E N D A R

Mr. Hastings, SRA representative, meets with principal and parents, prior to a general meeting to discuss results of the Iowa Tests of Educational Development.

Sister Marie-Edna, Provincial Superior, discusses Religious Vocation with the Seniors.

Mothers and daughters enjoy delicious food at the annual Mother-Daughter Tea.

R. Anastasoff and P. Picard, King and Queen of the Sodality Valentine dance.

Students gather for a brief prayer before the new statue of Venerable De La Mennais.

Mrs. R. Letellier demonstrates a baby's bath during the CHILD CARE course given to the Senior class.

December 8 marked the official inception of new candidates to the Sodality.

To the beautiful arrangement of "Gesu Bambino," played by J. Kearney and P. Rochefort at the Christmas assembly, the student body listened attentively.

York County speed skating champions, Don Col-lard and Don Giroux, proudly display their trophies.

March 19 marks the traditional feast of our beloved Pastor.

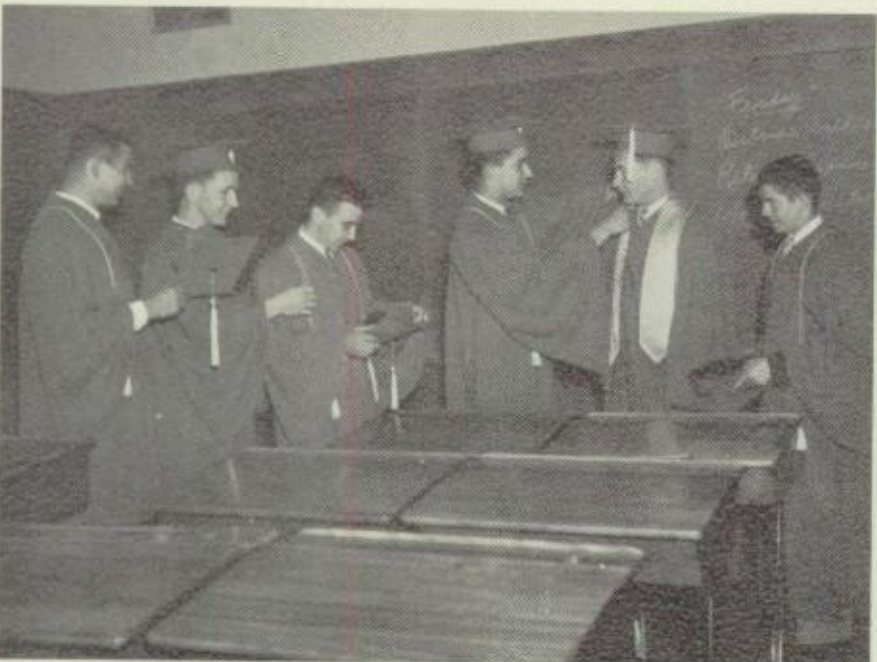

M. Baillargeon, Sodality Prefect, crowns Our Lady to close annual May procession.

Spring provides a beautiful background for the annual signing of yearbooks among friends and classmates.

Last June these boys represented St. Louis High at Dirigo Boys' State. They are kneeling: N. Taylor, R. Chretien, R. Anastasoff, R. Cote, H. Petit; STANDING: J. Souliere, L. Gagne, and R. Verrier.

Just as soon as the caps and gowns arrive, the Seniors cannot resist trying them on.

The banks of the Saco River near Notre Dame Hospital provide the setting for this spring concert.

The Senior and Junior Sodalties are ready to depart for a Cheverus convention.

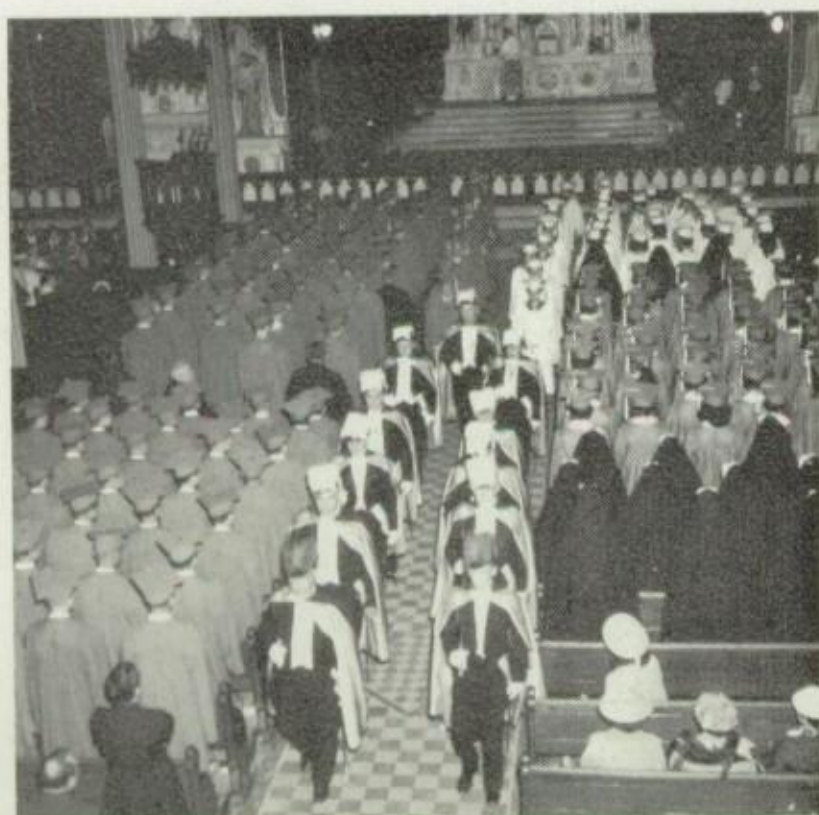

Professional women, college students, parents, and religious enlighten all who attend their conferences during the March Career Week.

Happy Seniors gather and discuss future plans together before each goes his separate way.

Coming out of church, the Seniors walk toward the parish hall where they will be given a communion breakfast.

Led by the Knights of Columbus, our Seniors walk proudly down the aisle.

After having participated in a dialogued mass, the Seniors file out of church.

To Nicole,
the most beautiful, gentle, and exciting young lady I have ever met, I wish to express my heartfelt thanks for making of your senior year a superb one. The warmth and a high school concert more than a of tinny sounds. Because of you, who looked so lovely that night, the prom was the happiest and most memorable event of my life. The remembrance of all this will live in my heart forever.
But I thank you most of all, my sweet, for the confidence and self-assurance you have implanted in me. I shall cherish this gift more than any other human bestowments, that have ever and will ever be conferred to "Chops".
I hope that your every dream become realities, that you do well in college, that your vocation and avocations beam with success, and most of all I wish you all the happiness in the world. Remain your sweet lovable self and I know success will follow you no matter where you are.

Forever a friend (at heart)
"Chops"
